1-6 credits, max 9. Specialized readings or independent studies. (max:20)

ENGL 5520.351 INTERNSHIP IN PROF WRITING

TBA - M302B CHENG, AN

This course provides a supervised work-and-learning experience in professional writing. It is open only to students in the MA Option or Ph.D. in Professional Writing. Students who wish to enroll must receive prior permission from the instructor. Enrollment is contingent upon the availability of internships.

Interns should spend nearly all of their time engaged in writing and writing-related activities such as editing, design, interviewing, or conducting research. They will maintain a daily work-related log that documents what they do on the job and what they are learning about the workplace and the profession. They will write monthly progress reports, meet with the instructor and other internship students regularly, and develop a portfolio that contains significant samples of work completed.

(max:1)
